

ReIREs

Research Infrastructure
on Religious Studies

KNOWLEDGE CREATES UNDERSTANDING

Learn how ReIREs can support you.
Visit our website at: reires.eu.

ReIReS

Research Infrastructure
on Religious Studies

ReIReS is:

- a starting community that aims to create a unique and groundbreaking research infrastructure on religious studies within the European research context;
- shaping a promising field of research from a multidisciplinary perspective;
- offering access to a wide range of high-level data and tools for advancing knowledge and innovation in the understanding of inter-religious society;
- training a new generation of scholars.

The consortium consists of:

- Fondazione per le scienze religiose Giovanni XXIII, Italy (coordinator).
- Brepols Publishers NV, Belgium.
- Consiglio Nazionale Delle Ricerche, Italy.
- École Pratique des Hautes Études, France.
- Johannes Gutenberg-Universität Mainz, Germany.
- Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, Belgium.
- Leibniz-Institut für Europäische Geschichte, Germany.
- Refo500 Foundation, Netherlands.
- Sofiiski Universitet Sveti Kliment Ohridski, Bulgaria.
- Theological University of Apeldoorn, Netherlands.
- Universität Hamburg, Germany.
- Uniwersytet Warszawski, Poland.

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 730895.