

Cover Drawing: Nicolas-Martin Petit: Young woman with child, Westtimor
1801. Drawn during the Baudin expedition to Australia (1800-1803)

Venue: Centre Marc Bloch
Germaine Tillion Room, 7th floor
Friedrichstr. 191
10117 Berlin

Organized by Léa Renard and Martin Herrstadt in cooperation with the research focus Dynamics and Experiences of Globalisation at the Centre Marc Bloch and the research area Mobility and Belonging at the Leibniz-Institute of European History Mainz (IEG)

GLOBAL HISTORIES OF THE SOCIAL SURVEY IN THE LONG 19TH CENTURY

February 18-19, 2020 / Centre Marc Bloch

Tuesday, February 18

09.15–9.30 Introductory remarks: Léa Renard (Berlin), Martin Herrstadt (Mainz/Berlin)

09.30–13.00 Panel I: Forms, practices and technologies of social and colonial surveys
Chair and commentary: Irmela Gorges (Berlin)

Julien Vincent (Paris I): Land surveying and colonization: the political economy of the New Zealand Company (1837-1853)

Anne Kwaschik (Konstanz): “La colonisation est une science qui ne s’improvise pas”:
The scientification of colonialism in the age of empire

Coffee break

Frederico Agoas (Lisbon): Towards an integrated historical sociology of Portuguese imperial and metropolitan social research

13.00–14.00 Lunch

14.00–17.30 Panel 2: Enquêtes et contre-enquêtes: Epistemic resistance, appropriations and inquiries from below
Chair and commentary: Johannes Paulmann (Mainz)

Philipp Reick (Berlin/Jerusalem): In awe of numbers: A workers’ malady

Amadou Dramé (Paris/Dakar): “Se tenir au courant de tous les faits et gestes des lettrés musulmans”. The broussard and the colonial survey on Islam in French West Africa (XIX-XX e siècle)

Coffee Break

Leyla Dakhli (Berlin): Thinking “Eastern society” through minorities: A construction of orientalist expertise

17.30–18.30 Apéritif

18.30–20.00 Keynote lecture: Andrea Ploder (Konstanz)

Making and appropriating methods.
Towards a historical praxeology of qualitative research

Commentary: Fabian Link (Frankfurt am Main/Wuppertal)

20.30 Dinner

Wednesday, February 19

09.30–12.30 Panel 3: Global histories of the social survey? Challenges of a historico-political epistemology of the early social sciences
Chair and commentary: Jakob Vogel (Berlin)

Fabian Link (Frankfurt am Main/ Wuppertal): Writing the history of the social sciences as historical epistemology and as history of intellectual practices

Nicolas Hatzfeld (Evry Val d’Essonne): Présentation de l’ouvrage collectif Les enquêtes ouvrières dans l’Europe contemporaine (La Découverte, 2019 ; sous la dir. de E. Geerkens, N. Hatzfeld, I. Lespinet-Moret et X. Vigna)
Simultaneous translation will be provided by the Centre Marc Bloch

Coffee break

Concluding discussion and future cooperations